Layette Accessories Can Be Made Very Economically—Two New Shapes for Infant Bath Baskets—Shallow Clothes Basket Makes Baby a Beautiful Bed—Soap Used in Making Eyelet Embroidery—Substitute for Double Boiler—Vinegar on Roast Will Make It More Tender.

LAYETTE ACCESSORIES

A certain young mother, with more affection than money to spend upon her first born, has got up a most attractive looking layette trunk from materials that were in the house. Its foundation is a rough box of about the size of a shirt-waist trunk, and this she first covered with several layers of white sheet wadding, then with coarse muslin and finally with white voile, over which wander small girls and tall storks, stenciled in pale blue.

The lining of the box is similarly decorated, and its hinges of wide blue satin ribbon swing from under big bows set on the outer side of the chest and flat lid. This layette chest, which is an important part of the furnishings of a very small nursery, is also the support for the basket cot, which must needs take the place of a bassinet until the baby begins to sleep in a crib.

The little cot is merely a shallow clothes basket, lined with detachable side pads to which belong a special set of lingerie slips, and into which is fitted a soft little oval mattress. The outer sides of the basket are concealed by a lawn valance, veiled by a wide ruffle of Valenciennes edge fine lawn which once trimmed, a lingerie frock, and at either end of it is looped up with blue ribbon bows.

Two new shapes are to be found in infant bath baskets. Both are in splint straw and very substantial. One of them, a shallow circular affair of half-yard diameter, has a flat lid that swings off with the aid of a wide ribbon hinge, but when adjusted perfectly protects the inside of the basket from dust. The base of the receptacle is padded, then lined with swiss or batiste and its upper edge trimmed with inch-wide double frillings of machining material, edged with the narrowest of Valenciennes lace. The lid's edge is also finished with a double frilling and on its center is a huge bow of blue ribbon.

The second basket is a pall-shaped affair laced with wide ribbons from base to top and unlaced, save at the bottom, where is a circular cushion, which may be easily taken out and covered with a white lingerie slip. The top edge of this basket is finished with a detachable lingerie double frilling, which buttons together under a bow of ribbon. Both baskets hold the usual celluloid toilet sets, painted to match the ribbon bows, as well as soap and powder boxes and rubber-lined lingerie wash cloth bags.

FOR HOUSEKEEPER

If you do not own a double boiler, fill a frying pan with boiling water and set into it one of the old-fashioned triangular ironing stands, or three muffin rings, arranged so as to touch one another. On this platform set the article to be cooked in a thin-bottomed saucepan. It will cook more quickly than in a double boiler and quite as well. A substitute for the granite double boiler is a workman's tin dinner kettle, costing 25 cents. The under part is big enough to boil potatoes and a stew or pudding may occupy the upper part.

VINEGAR ON ROAST

When you put your roast in the oven put a small dish of vinegar in also. It will not only keep your meat from burning, but will make it much more tender than it would otherwise be, improving the flavor as well. A tablespoon of vinegar put in a five-pound pot roast will make the meat more tender and palatable.

RECIPES

Leg of Veal Roast.

Wash and wipe dry a leg of veal. With a sharp knife cut open the meat lengthwise and carefully take out the bone. Beat to a paste the yolks of 8 hard boiled eggs, add one teaspoon melted butter, two truffles (cut into thin slices), a little tabasco and salt to taste; mix well. Into a chopping tray put the white of the eggs, one teaspoon minced parsley, a pinch of sage, a small piece of onion (minced fine), one level teaspoon melted butter, one teaspoon anchovy essence, two whole shredded wheat biscuits (rolled fine), a pinch of black pepper and salt if needed. Chop all together, then mix well with a raw egg. Open leg of veal and spread this mixture inside of meat evenly. Lay over this the yolk mixture, close up meat and bind together with small wooden skewers. Blend one teaspoon flour with one teaspoon melted butter, a little salt and cayenne pepper and rub over the meat. Put into baking pan with a small clove of garlic, a small onion, a sprig of parsley, pepper and salt. Add a pint of hot stock. Cover and cook in medium oven one hour. Then uncover and add more stock. Cover again and cook one hour. Take off cover and cook thirty minutes, basting every ten minutes, adding more stock if needed. When done, take up meat, thicken gravy and strain. Serve either hot or cold.

Vienna Meat Roll.
Finely chop half pound, each, fresh pork, veal and beef. Mix and add one-half cup stale bread crumbs, half small onion, finely chopped, one-half tablespoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper and two eggs, beaten slightly. Shape into a roll, using as little pressure as possible. Put in baking pan, cover with thin strips of fat salt pork, and bake in a hot oven fifty minutes basting after the first ten minutes of the cooking with water, afterward with the fat in pan. Serve with tomato sauce.

Baked Ham.
Remove the thigh-bone of the ham and let it soak in cold water for twenty-four hours before cooking. Then put it in a boiler and boil gradually for three hours. Take it out and remove the rind. Place it in a tightly covered pan with a few carrots, onions, blade of mace, whole cloves, allspice, bay leaf and one bunch of cooking celery and add about four quarts of stock or water. Place the pan in the oven and be careful that your lid fits closely. Let the ham steam slowly for three hours. Remove it from the oven and let it cool in the liquor. If the ham is served hot, send it to the table as soon as taken from the oven. The above is for a ham weighing from eighteen to twenty pounds.

Hot Sauce for Baked Ham.

Brown a little flour and butter in the oven until it becomes a rather dark brown. Then remove all the fat from the stock in which the ham was cooked. Strain it and add the browned butter and flour. Stir well and boil down, adding a little pepper. Strain the sauce again before serving. Just before sending it to the table add a little white wine, sherry or champagne.

Italian Salad.

Butter an oval mold slightly; then arrange cooked macaroni and truffles around the sides; now grate six cucumbers; add to half a pint of water, with a slice of onion; simmer for five minutes; remove the onion and add one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of white pepper, one tablespoon of gelatin moistened in a little water, two tablespoons of white vinegar. Pour into the bowl and add finely chopped chicken, celery, green peppers and stewed tomatoes. Set on ice until cold. Turn out on a decorated platter, garnish with mayonnaise and parsley.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES

When making eyelet embroidery it is a good idea to rub white soap on the cloth first. Hold a piece of soap under the material and allow the suds to pass through it. The soap gives a slight stiffness to the cloth and a much better eyelet can be made.

Another way of working knot stitch and other raised designs has been invented by an ingenious manufacturer for the woman that is pressed for time. Embroidery cotton has been twisted and mounted upon a curved wire covered to match the cotton, and this is to be laid upon the design and secured invisibly to the material.

OF PLAIN AND FIGURED MOIRE.

The predominating color is a pale olive green, the bolero showing figures in bright colors with cuffs and lapels of black satin, held by silver buttons.

The vest of ivory white crepe is bound with Chinese blue, and porcelain buttons of the same shade are used ornamentally. The skirt is one of the peg top adaptations and is finished with black silk tassels.

E. Clinton, the Pocahontas Tribune of last Tuesday says: "The Big Lost River irrigation system with its dam at Mackay, its fine system of cement canals and laterals, its drops and headgates, a system in which it is claimed that practically $2,000,000 has been invested, has been sold by Receiver James E. Clinton of Boise on authority conferred upon him by Judge Dietrich of the federal court to satisfy liens aggregating $550,000 held by the Corey Brothers Construction company of Ogden. There was but one bid, that of $35,000 by Ralph E. Hoag, president of the Utah National bank of Ogden. An unexpected and rather sensational development of the sale was the warning served on all prospective bidders by W. H. Puckett of Boise, member of the law firm of Hawley, Puckett and Hawley. This warning was to the effect that the land on which the Mackay dam stands and some 900 acres surrounding it is the property of C. C. Davidson, that he proposed to protect his rights in the matter, and that whoever bought the Big Lost River project bought it at his own peril and subject to these conditions. The sale was called from the steps of the courthouse promptly at 1:30 p. m. according to the terms of the advertisement. There were present from outside, in addition to Receiver J. E. Clinton, Ralph E. Hoag of the Utah National bank, Judge H. H. Henderson, attorney for Corey Brothers, W. H. Corey, head of the firm and O. B. Gilson of the Union-Portland Cement company, all of Ogden, and W. H. Puckett of Boise. W. H. Watts, head of the Utah Construction company, announced the last time he was in Boise that he would not purchase the Big Lost River project at any price until it was demonstrated to his satisfaction that the Mackay dam would hold water, or until it was demonstrated that there was some other feasible reservoir site on the project.

"On the strength of this statement, the state land board sent State Engineer Frank I. King to make a thorough inspection of conditions at Mackay. This he did. What he found has not been made public, for the staff of the company will be reorganized in the near future. The present officers are I. N. Pierce, president; H. L. Herrington, I. L. Pierce and Mrs. Mary Matson. Secretary Matson's stock was equally divided among these five.

Mr. Matson had been with the company for a number of years and was largely instrumental in its upbuilding.

MURDERED MAN IS IDENTIFIED

Victim of Shooting Affray Proves to be San Francisco Cigar Jobber.

Chicago, April 9.—Isaac Henagow, a cigar jobber, formerly of San Francisco, who was shot and killed last night in a south side cafe was identified today and a mystery as to his identity was cleared up. Henagow, formerly was sparring partner for a pugilist known as "Kid Farmer," according to his brother Maurice, with whom his parents and two sisters, the victim lived here.

Maurice Henagow said that his brother was known in sporting circles as "William Wood." The police are looking for James Franche alias "James Duffy," or "Duffy the Goat," who was said to have been drinking with Henagow and a woman a few moments before the shooting. Finding of letters and cards in Henagow's pockets addressed to persons in San Francisco led at first to the belief that he was "William Wood" of San Francisco.

How You May Throw Away Your Glasses

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optima; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Optima tablet. With this harmless liquid solution, bathe the eyes two or four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may be so much on your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

Pocatello, Idaho, April 8.—Judge Alfred Budge of the district court yesterday announced his decision in the case of several parties against the Southern Idaho Water Power company, in which great damages were claimed for flooding, and, aside from the judgment for damages sustained by hay crops, set aside the judgment against the company. About $3800 was collected a few weeks ago from patrons of the company by the sheriffs of Bannock, Blaine and Power counties, which satisfied a judgment for loss of hay. The judgments set aside were in favor of Freda Sparks, $26,940; Walter Sparks, $21,750; E. E. White, $26,940; W. W. White, $6,100; E. J. Twomey, $5850; N. Smith, $8750; American Falls Development company, $2500; Philbrick & Greenwood, $12,000, and T. E. St. John, $2500. Philbrick & Greenwood were allowed $350 for attorneys' fees. There is probability of an appeal from this decision to the supreme court.
